25 Year-old Advice

Still Consider 'Sound'

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: You have often written about the need for a reasonable way of life for people who want to prevent the onset of early heart disease. Would you "re-peal"—Mr. S.

Answer: Better still, I'd like to quote from the advice given about 25 years ago by Sir Thomas Lewis, one of the outstanding heart specialists of

They avoid all forms of excess, abuse use tobacco little if at all, enjoy the coolness and freshness of abundant air and open spaces, delighting in the feelings of invigoration that accompany active exercise; they love the warmth of sunlight playing on their skin and the sleepiness or healthy fatigue.

Developments in Packaging of Foods

Products on display in supermarket shops will have new looks, says a report by Packaging Institute already assailing low-packaged housewares with packages of goods that look good now but are about to be spent packages. Goods that smell good, too, plastic wrappings on foodstuffs are being impregnated with fragrances hinting that what inside. Packages of beef meat look like steak. Loaves of bread seem to be baking right there in the store.

But these are just a few of the developments that will be on display at the 44th National Packaging Exposition opening tomorrow in Atlantic City. Another novel article is a folding-increase carton that keeps beer cool for six or more hours without ice refrigeration. Also on display is an aluminum eggbeater that's supposed to keep eggs fresh longer than the natural egg. And to prevent odors from reaching the yolk.

Something new in bed fixings is a non-swinging, lock-type wire bed for metal bed frames. The casters lock instantly when the bed is occupied to prevent rattling. When it isn't occupied, the bed can be moved away from the wall at a touch. You can use soft, brown rubber wheels with the casters to provide maximum protection on "hard" floors.

New Development in Lighting

Lighting is now being developed in the standard "on-off" fixture, called "the dimmable" by State Electronics Corporation of Glen Cove, New York. The device is an easily installed wall plate that gives 100 per cent bright light and 30 per cent dimmer light and light or mood - softer. It's for in-dimmed bulbs only and requires no new wiring.

Can Opener May Be a Thing of the Past

Can openers may come to be a thing of the past. Packaging authorities at Michigan State University report that self-opening cans are being developed for the consumer market. Don't expect a break in a shoe if it doesn't fit, it never will. And don't know those stretched to fit. If they're good shoes they'll return to their original very shortly.

Officers Elected For ensuing Year

Lattie Brittan (Pres.) — The March meeting of the W. M. S. Fellowship Baptist Church, Lattie Brittan, was held at the home of Mrs. G. Forbes. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Frank Wakeford. The opening hymn, was sung followed by prayer by Mrs. R. Tingstad. The scripture was read by Mrs. M. Archer and Mrs. F. Cornish read a short poem. Mrs. W. Bloy, Mrs. L. Hall and Mrs. G. Forbes led in a season of prayer, with the missionaries particularly in mind.

Mrs. F. Wakeford gave a short, but very interesting message on the new vision.

A hymn was sung to close this portion of the meeting.

Mrs. M. Archer took charge of the business. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given. The roll call was answered by a favorite hymn.

The election of officers was held.

SOME NEGROES GO TO THEIR TRUL HOME

Negroes streamed out of native compounds near Durban and Capetown today and some headed for their native homes to avoid new hostilities by South Africa's police. White authorities have insisted the resistance from defiant blacks is melting. They expect little or no trouble today for the second day of holiday—the 28th anniversary of white settlement in the Union.

SOUTH AFRICA'S SEEK INFORMATION

More than 600 South Africans sought information in the last week on how they might emigrate to Canada and Australia. The figure is more than twice the normal rate. Officials at the office of the High Commissioner of the two countries declined to comment on the suddenly high interest in possible emigration. It was felt they wished to avoid embarrassing the South African Government.

KENNEDY SCORED AN EASY VICTORY

Senator John Kennedy has scored an easy victory in the Wisconsin Presidential Primary. With returns nearly complete, Democratic Kennedy is running ahead of Senator Hubert Humphrey by nearly 100-thousand votes. With only 77 of the State's precincts yet to report, the latest tally reads: Kennedy-329,328, Humphrey-349,460, and U-S Vice President Nixon—opposed in the Republican Primary—332,406. Much of the primary vote assembly followed religious lines in Wisconsin's 11 most heavily Catholic counties. Kennedy—a Catholic Democrat—swept over both Humphrey and Nixon whether the county was Republican or Democrat—urban or rural. And Kennedy's victory in the state's seventh Congressional district—23 per cent of the vote is looked on as indicating a measure of rural strength.

This is an old, old story but many people hereabouts have never heard it before

This is an old, old story—one which has been told and retold for many, many times before but there are a lot of people living today who never heard it before.

It all began years ago, in New York City when a group of people got the idea they would like to bring top-notch entertainment to people living outside the big live theatre centres.

This group of people were the Kennedy's of Columbia Artists Management Incorporated, but in order to get their idea across they decided a change of name would point up their aim.

The name they chose was Community Concerts Association, a non-profit organization which has no where seen in 1950 and district for the past nine years. It has been 20 years in Canada and serves most major centres.

As a result of the co-operation of the hundreds of people to see Canada have been able to see and hear internationally known artists which they otherwise might not have done.

Right now, for example, plans have been completed to bring the world-famous Don Chorus to Toronto. One of the Community Concerts Association's 1966-67 operations here by presenting the delightful Columbia Boys Choir and the Don Chorus, which will perform a variety of songs, choruses and instrumental pieces.

And that, briefly, is a partial re-telling of an old, old story which the association hopes will be told and retold until everyone is familiar with it.

Kawartha Realty Limited, the promoters of an ambitious summer home project at Pleasant Point, has voiced objection to an article appearing in the April 1st edition of the Post.

It is alleged that the report was illiberal in the following particulars:

- (1) "That the company was not properly looking after sanitation."
- (2) "That the post simply referred to the general concern over a sanitation problem created by increasing the population density in an area without sewage disposal. No reference was made to existing conditions, or to the ability of the company to finance adequate waste disposal."
- (3) "That the company was causing a nuisance by upsetting bulldozers day and night."

The Post article reported the contents of some residents' opinion over the noise from bulldozers operating day and night "throughout the coming season."

- (4) "That the said company was excavating for properties of others."
- (5) "Further, you had to words or innuendoes alleged that the company was going to short shift other owners of properties."

FIRE PROTECTION AND INSURANCE

Fire protection and fire insurance are, it would appear, closely related. This belief was again brought up in the wake of the fire which destroyed a service station in Lindsay, Ontario, last night.

In conversation with the owners of the business that they looked over the ruins, it was learned that the insurance carried was far below the actual value placed on the property. One partner said he would have asked $30,000 for the business the day before the fire but that it was insured for only about one-third of that. He replied that it was too costly. Rates, he explained, were high in the area because of the lack of fire protection. The reason this businessman advanced for not carrying adequate fire insurance is one which might bear investigation. It would seem grossly unfair that a man doing business in an area lacking in fire protection should be forced to do without needed insurance profits simply because of the cost factor.

Being unfamiliar with insurance company practices, it would be impossible to say whether or not they might find it practical to extend a better rate to businessmen in areas without fire-fighting units.

One might, however, be pointed out that Lindsay, considered to be an area with good fire-fighting resources, has had a large number of fires entailing heavy loss of property in recent times. This observation is made to show that good fire-fighting units do not guarantee there will be no serious fires. If the observation also comes to mind as a reason why the cost of fire insurance rates on the province, or otherwise, of efficient fire brigades in a given area.

Another thought might be advanced as to why getting lower fire insurance rates generally would be to prevent fires. An ounce of prevention sometimes goes a long way. It might be pointed out that as far as the rates department.

THERE ARE SOME THINGS . . .

There are some things which don't reach the people, the confusion and anger of Ontario's jails but the printed word isn't one of them.

Long heralded as the most effective message-bearer of all, the printed word reaches the most people most of the time.

Newspapers, whose doors are open prematurely several days to those who were over-enthusiastic supporters of such message-carriers, radio and later television, are still doing an effective job of getting the facts to the people.

One might suggest that newspapers are freely distributed among prisoners in Ontario's jails but it is an established fact that the printed word does and the same is true of the printed word in the hands of an enquiring mind. This in turn leads support to the fire conviction of publishers of all types of literature, that the printed word is still the world's most effective means of circulating news and information.

IT MAY HAVE BEEN APRIL FOOL'S DAY

Friday may have been April Fool's Day in this part of the world but there was no fooling about an announcement from the Dept. of Lands and Forests, Lindsay District.

Forest Protection Supervisor W. Kist announced that what April 1st marked the official opening of the "fire season" in the district. Writing on the subject in the current departmental "Weekly Report," he notes that although the heavy accumulation of snow may have now aided in biding the fact, the forest fire season opens officially on April 1st and will continue through October 31st. The Fire District in the Lindsay District includes all of the townships of Ontario, the townships of Danden, Carden, Longford, Dixie, Landon, Bevel and Somerset in Victoria County, the townships of Carleton Place, Maitland, Strathroy, Burleigh, Cavendish, Galway and Huron in Peterborough County.

The Forest Fire Prevention Act outlines the various regulations and conditions of burning in effect in the Fire Districts and must be followed rigidly. A fire permit is required before any burning is done. The only exception here is a fire built for warmth or for cooking but care should be taken to see that your camp-fire is dead before you leave the scene. The fire permit is issued by any of the Ranger Headquarters or from authorized Township Fire Wardens.

It is a good idea. Mr. Kist goes on to point out, "to discuss your proposed burning with a Forest Ranger or Fire Warden because he may know some problems you might have and give you proper advice. After obtaining a fire permit, should know that his responsibilities do not end with the issuing of the permit, but he is liable for any damage caused by fire getting out of hand and can also be assessed the costs of having the fire put out. These few hints should come in your fire permit."

1. Always wear essential fire fighting equipment such as ax, pail, shovels, pump-packs and pump ready at the scene.
2. Warn your neighbours and friends for assistance in preventing the spread of fire.
3. Burn only in the evening hours when the wind is light.
4. Burn small piles of rubbish and debris a safe distance from buildings and wooded areas.
5. Burn piles of brush and grass at one time keeping it under control always. Better to burn in several small fires and the patch to be kept under control.

He was walking by himself when he was suddenly overtaken by a fast-moving car which hit one of the front wheels of his car. He was thrown off his feet and the car was travelling so fast that not only did it spray the contents of the pothole over the girl but he also hit her across the street to make contact with pedestrians on the other side.

LIBERAL POLICY ON VOTES FOR INDIANS

"While wholeheartedly in favour of giving to the Indians of Canada the right to vote in federal elections, this Liberal Party believes that the Indians are entitled to specific assurance that their other rights and privileges will be maintained and respected."

There has been considerable concern among the Indians that, by being given the right to cast ballots for federal candidates of their choice, their other rights and privileges may be reduced or jeopardized. The Government proposed, and what the House of Commons did on March 30, was to repeal sections of the Indian Act and the Indian Rights Act which barred Indians from voting on reserves. Since this was a negative rather than a positive action, the uneasiness of the Indians is understandable.

"The Liberals were fully in accord with the principle that the right had come to give the vote to the original inhabitants of Canada the right to vote. They believe that a great deal of misunderstanding among Canadian Indians about Indians arises from the fact that the Indians do not have this right and appear to have an inferior status to others."

"But the Government, instead of taking the affirmative action that it did, should have just included in the bill the reversing the vote to a positive statement of intent, listing all the existing rights of Indians. This would have been on the records of Parliament and on the statute books of Canada. It would have given complete assurance to all Indians. This was not done, now the Government agree to it, despite the efforts of the Liberal Opposition to block it from the Indian Act."

LIVING COSTS DIP AGAIN, FOOD RESPONSIBLE

Ottawa, April 4.—(UPI)—The Bureau of Statistics reported today that declining food prices pushed living costs down for the fourth consecutive month between February and March.

The bureau set the March consumer price index at 124.9 compared with 125.1 in February. A year ago the index stood at 125.5.

The index, which uses 1960 prices as 100, has fallen almost 10 per cent from its all-time high of 128.7 in 1974.

The bureau said the falling home, and showed a 1.2 per cent yearly drop, cost boost after hitting a rec-mission's report, tabled in the House of Commons, recommended sweeping changes, proposed the repeal of the present Patent Act and the passage of new legislation. UPI.

Impaired thinking?

Lindsay, R. 4 to 4.

April 1, 1960.

Editor,

The Daily Post.

Sir:

There seems to be no end of warnings against impaired driving of automobiles on the public roads, but one phase seems to be lacking — another solution, that would abolish it. This lack seems to be the cause of it is so unusual and unjust — but strange to say — that several (six or seven) drivers replace sound thinking or duty.

This is another day for the Lindsay Daily Post. It is the first day of the week. A number of reports of impaired driving have been received from several (six or seven) drivers replace sound thinking or duty.

Hothouse Cucumbers

Commercially grown hot-house cucumbers from the southwestern Ontario are coming on the market now in good quantities, reports the Inspection Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. When shopping look for well-shaped cucumbers with a healthy green color. A dull, yellow color and a puffy skin are usually signs of over-maturity. Cucumbers keep best in the refrigerator. They are priced for the variety in texture and flavor they can add to a meal. Serve cucumbers in a relish, as a salad, or in a vinaigrette. Add them to salads or slice paper thin for sandwiches. And, for a new cucumber treat try this recipe.

Cucumbers in Sour Cream

Cucumbers, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced chives or onion, 1 cup commercially prepared sour cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Peel and thinly slice the cucumbers and allow to rest in salt water for 1 hour. Drain and pat dry. Mix ingredients and chill about an hour before serving. Recipe yields eight to ten servings.

Fish and cucumbers bring the best in each other, as served finely diced cucumbers in tartar sauce, in divines as a garnish, or in a salad with tuna.

New Ham

The sellable marks when a ham has been let out can be completely erased by placing a cloth dipped in vinegar under the ham and then covering with a hot iron. This hint works with wool and cotton — but not on synthetic fabrics.

Sandpaper

You'll get more "mileage" out of sandpaper if you brush it with a stiff, dry scrubbing brush when the surface gets dull. This will remove dirt and powder of paint. After a brushing, you will find the sandpaper will cut again.

Sound Planning

If you are planning a new home, remember that glass is a poor insulator against sound. A large picture window facing a highway may attract a large amount of noise into the house.

Here's one good way to use leftover bread that is as treat as well as a budget aid: bread crumbs. crust, utilizing about 10 slices of ground meat, can be used instead of fat for ¼ cup of sugar, six tablespoons of butter, and one teaspoon of cinnamon added to the 10 slices of dry, ground bread for the crust.

When Bathing

That "itch-all-over" feeling that is so annoying is not due to the water, but is caused by using too much soap, taking too many hot baths or dry skin. Adding a little oil or bicarbonate of soda to the water helps, as does frequent use of lotions.

Leather Softener

Leather softener used in less expensive shoes by placing two scrubbed potatoes in each boot or shoe and letting them stand overnight.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. MacCormack, M.D., F.A.C.P.

Weather's Effect On Emotions

"It is really true," asks Mr. R., Washington, D.C., "that weather actually affects our emotions? I am a pretty even-tempered person myself. I don't get 'chippy' on rainy or humid days as I do on the best day of the year."

"Yes, I have some friends who tell me that rain depresses them. One gets so bad he almost cries. I feel then it's their imagination."

ANSWER: Nothing of the sort. Poor weather acts on some as blue mood music. It's difficult to reason with emotions. I recommend that you read a book on the subject by Dr. William F. Floyd, "The Patient and the Weather," which I think will convince you. But we've known about the connection for a long time. For example, let me quote from O.E. Desfer who wrote in 1819:

"A writer in one of the British magazines some years ago says that there are many persons who are simply victims of the weather. Atmospheric influence plays upon them as the wind plays upon the strings of an aeolian harp, with the difference that the latter never suffers discord in reply."

"A leaden sky weighs upon them with a crushing weight, and suggests all manner of unpleasant questions. And then the gloomy side of life comes out."

The better savings of people are remembered. The old groundswell of forgotten quarrels is remembered. The questions arise that regard to life at large and to individual lives is the general mental influence."

How about that, Mr. R.? You see how force feedback! At such times in their lives a pat on the back is more welcome than a doublet.

To quote Desfer again: "It is safe to say that high conditions of temperature and humidity, cloudy and rainy days, and for many people, high winds are generally productive of more or less negative emotional states, while moderate and cool temperatures, low humidity, clear days are usually positive in their effects."

Final Concert Of Season

The final community concert of the season was given Monday, March 28 before a capacity audience in the Academy Theatre. By the choir boys choir. Under the direction of Mr. Donald Bryant, 28 boys from all parts of the United States, ranging in age from 10 to 14, sang throughout the evening with the exhilarating purity of tone, precision of intonation and thorough discipline which have made this choir famous.

Three contrasting examples of the surprisingly beautiful and intricate choral polyphony of the 16th century opened the programme and were followed by the two-part chorale, "We Haste With Falling Footsteps" from Bach's Cantata No. 28, sung in response to the audience delighted appreciation.

The choir's amazing accuracy in both relative and absolute pitch, whether ascending or descending, was well exemplified by the deceptive ease with which they sang the complex from the very difficult "Ceremony of Carols" (Benjamin Britten) which formed the second group.

These were followed by the choir's versatile concert accompanist, Mr. Bryant, who also acted as accompanist solo.

The excellence of the boys' solo voices, including the soprano, was particularly apparent, as was their dramatic ability. "The Apostrophe" (Haydn), a delightfully comic one-act opera, especially adapted for the Boychoir. It is accepted for this season. Please print plainly: SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER. Send order to ANNIE ADAMS, care of Lindsay Daily Post.

The final portion of the concert consisted of American music: three well-known songs, "The Apostrophe" (Haydn), "Summer-time" and "I Got Plenty of Nothin'."

In response to overwhelming applause the choir sang several encores, among them "I Got Plenty of Nothin'." The "Apostrophe" (Haydn), the amusingly entitled "The Old Woman" and the spiritual "Joshua Did It Better."

Throughout the performance the boys continued first in cancoos and surprises. Those in 18th century garb for the opera, and finally in grey flannel suits, presented a most impressive appearance. Their absorption in, and obvious mastery of the music and their complete rapport with the conductor, all contributed to make a very happy atmosphere for a delightful concert.

At the end of the program, Mr. Bryant heard several local boys soprano in an informal song on stage. It may be noted that it is by means of such auditions that many of the present students at the Boychoir School and summer camp have been chosen.

Facts For Farmers

The Canadian-American committee has warned that barter of U.S. wheat surplus—so could become a source of controversy in Canada-United States relations.

The committee says that large increases in U.S. surplus wheat stocks are leading to stronger pressure for enlarging U.S. wheat surplus disposal program.

The group says that barter is a useful device in wheat surplus disposal. But because of the fluctuating nature of wheat prices, barter transactions have important limitations as a surplus disposal technique and must be subject to restrictions.

The committee is an offshoot of the National Planning Association, a private American group, and the Private Planning Association of Canada.

Its aim is to study various aspects of Canadian-American relations.

Hesper's Wedding May Not Be Glittering Affair

Princess Margaret's wedding May 6 to commoner Anthony Armstrong-Jones may be more common than royal. At any rate, it appears that Princess Margaret won't be the glittering affair many had hoped for. Rumors from May 6 of Hesper's royal families for not attending Margaret's wedding give visions of a royal staff conspicuously lacking in royalty. Of dozens of invitations extended to the royal household, only a few have been accepted. Denmark's Queen Ingrid alone has sent a firm acceptance. Representatives from the Belgian, Norwegian, Swedish and Holland houses have pleaded busy schedules. Nevertheless, the official attitude is to ignore the declines and to go ahead with elaborate plans for the marriage of the princess to the commoner.

Smoking Etiquette

When you light up a cigarette, you begin sending out smoke signals about your manners. Since smoking has become so universally accepted for even the most ladylike of women, certain rules of etiquette are now firmly established. To avoid embarrassing situations in social situations... Helen Hart, consumer services director for the makers of a leading cigarette suggests the following short course in cigarette manners. First, she reminds smokers that cigarettes are just decorative accessories... they are not to be used. All other receptacles, ashtrays and cigarette holders, she says are taboo for matches, ashtrays and tobacco. Miss Hart goes on to say that your style of smoking can be a clue to your social growth. The girl who carelessly fashions lacks polish and shows she is shy. This applies equally to the person who does not "smoke" signs in elevators, at the theatre, or other public places. Smoking, says Miss Hart, can be a social grace or disgrace, depending upon the individual.

HOW CAN I?

Q. What can I do, when remembering brides if the holes in the heads are too many for a needle to pass through?
A. Discard the needle and rub a little glue on the ends of the threads. When this is dry (which takes only a few minutes), it will be hard and stiff, and you can then proceed with your stringing.
Q. How can I keep weeds and grass from growing up between the bricks of a brick walk?
A. By putting erkanose oil into the cracks two or three times a season. The oil soon evaporates, and with it the weeds and grass.
Q. Please suggest a good, efficient way to clean crystal chandeliers.
A. One of the best ways is to use newspaper. The inside of the glass shades of a chandelier can be cleaned by dipping the paper inside and scrubbing it around briskly.

Winter must be over up at Kinmount. Rev. Father Kelly has his spring pilgrimage to Lindsay. Said the former Lindsay priest: "I took a chance—the snow's down to the ground now." He looked as though he fared pretty well during the long winter.

Something just a shade different in road signs was noticed at Duxie. Police Constable Simcoe, last Sunday afternoon, it read: "Please co-operate—15 miles per hour or less." Duxie Post is just a few miles beyond Peterborough. Incidentally a few of the private ice fishermen were out on the lake but the big-time operators had pulled their huts ashore.

While on the subject of signs, there's a tricky one over in Cargoy's drug store. It reads: "Keep smiling, it makes people wonder what you've been up to." Remember the grin you wore as a kid when you had been up to something?

Some of the Service Clubs have been giving their support to the Lady Hughes Lodge and their new project. The Rotarians welcomed Regent Club to their meeting on Monday. The Knights of Columbus gave it a real boost in this week's bulletin and the Civilians moved their meeting ahead one day to the luncheon at the Academy. Good for you, boys!

Now identified with another news outlet

Mr. Wm. Smith for the past two years associated with The Lindsay Daily Post as a reporter, has now identified himself with another news outlet. Mr. Smith came to Canada from Birmingham, England, settled at Lindsay and was joined later by his wife.

Living dining kitchen on the front house. Build it on a view lot, and you cannot move anywhere in the living room, the dining room or the kitchen without being conscious of the beauty around you. Count the things that go to make up its attractiveness—U-shaped kitchen, designed to save steps and time, dining room immediately adjacent, large living room with an unusual corner place to dress up and give a different appearance to the living room. Note the planter wall that divides the dining room from the entrance hall. There is a laundry room right next to the kitchen, so the family laundry can be done without inconvenience to mother—three bedrooms across the back of the house for complete privacy. The wide overhang at the front protects the house from the weather. Designed for N.H.A. approval, working drawings are available from the Building Centre, 1165 Broadway, Vancouver 18.

Manila Sew and Sows Present Fashion Show

Manila (FNS) — The highlight of the March meeting of the Manila W. I. was a Fashion Show by the Manila Sew and Sows. The show, which was presented by Mrs. G. P. Taylor, assisted by Shaarlyn Wiley.

The theme of the show was "Colors May Be Sown". Although all the modelled garments were made of cotton, it was difficult to believe of it, some of the "dresses" worn. This effect was due to the excellent fitting and careful styling as well as to the beautiful, clear, solid colours that may now be obtained in cotton.

The clothes were modelled with great distinction. The Four H members delighted their audience by first showing appropriate costume for many occasions, skirts and blouses for business hours were displayed, slim jims for sports, correct church attire, afternoon dresses and pretty "show" le pyjamas.

Next, each girl appeared in "creation" of her own making. It was generally agreed that all the girls had chosen styles which admirably suited them. Margaret Wood looked sophisticated in a light blue afternoon dress designed on straight lines with low back neckline, finished with a large flat bow. Joan Hamilton looked gay and youthful in a red and white bouffant skirt and Anne Barry was attractively posed in a smart black and pink skirt with white blouse, a costume that set off her Auburn hair. Joy Ann Martin was petite and doll-like in a dainty mauve brocade with full skirt.

Shaarlyn Wiley looked most striking in a daffodil yellow afternoon dress, made in tailored lines and Shirley Short seemed charmingly ready for a summer garden party in her lettuce green sleeveless creation, made with a full short skirt and modish large shawl collar.

Carol Nixon was extremely chic in a deep blue plaid Dan River dress that could double for sport or afternoon wear and brunette Judy Nixon was very graceful in an eye-catching cotton dress with large mauve and pink flowers that could be worn for dancing and all-year-round afternoon occasions.

The "models" then posed for a group flash-light snap shot by Mrs. Nixon and after a song by Shirley Short and Joy Ann Marshall, the members of the Institute viewed the neat notebooks and work-baskets of the young dressmakers and agreed that the "Manila Sew-and-Sows" had spent a very productive winter and brought a great deal of credit to their director.

Mrs. Barry Hannell gave an intellectual turn to the meeting by giving a short talk on the Bill of Rights formulated by the United Nations in 1948.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Other Duties Force Resident to Resign

Little Britain—(PNS)—The regular monthly meeting of the WMS of Sunday Church was held in the Sunday School rooms with Mrs. Gordon Avery presiding and opening the meeting with a talk on the different types of "Love" as applied to our Christian life. Prayer followed. Mrs. Mary Avery read the minutes of the last meeting and in the absence of Mrs. S. Chidley also gave the treasurer's report. The corresponding secretary Mrs. P. Proulx read several notes she had received. Mrs. Eli Hill gave a report on the meeting of the Community Friendship Committee. Mrs. George Avery reported a most active year for the quilters as 11 quilts have been completed. The supply convener, Mrs. Wynne Cook asked members to contribute new and good used articles of clothing for the sale as the proceeds are still in dire need.

The spring rally will be held at Greenbank in April with Miss Cook a Missionary from Japan, as guest speaker. Mrs. Mary Avery was appointed the Courtesy Committee convener.

The resignation of Mrs. Gordon Avery as president was accepted with regret. Mrs. Avery is also president of the "Day of Resurrection" and finds it impossible to carry out her duties in both offices.

Mrs. Lawrence Hestie, the 2nd vice president will act in her place.

The Easter worship service was taken by Mrs. Smart and her group. After singing a hymn, Mrs. W. Hestie read the Easter scripture lesson on the Resurrection. Members Discuss West Africa

Oakwood (PNS)—The April meeting of the Oakwood W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. George Hardy, with Mrs. C. D. Anderson in the chair. After a brief opening, Miss Lizette Hareus and her group led in the worship service. At the close all joined in a Litany of Consolation.

The study book under the direction of Mr. J. F. Lane was very capably given by Anglo-Portuguese West Africa. Mrs. Lane introduced the study by speaking of recent events in S. A.—18 hicks killed that morning, police were using whips and other items of like nature. David Livingston Angola is the centre where the United Church has had work since 1885. It is a Portuguese colony and the national religion is R. C.

Mrs. Herald Jenkins told of the mission and position of Mrs. E. H. Topping of the home. Mrs. Lavinia of the school, speaking of the work of Frank Laubach. This was illustrated by Mrs. Ted with a number of cards. Mrs. Sweetman told of the home. Mrs. Lane closed the study by telling of the work of the church. Miss Millicent Towse has recently translated the Bible into the native language of the Gambia and Guinea.

Mr. E. H. Topping who is introducing better farming methods of the work of Dr. Philip Collins of the college and of the other denominations working with the United Church.

Mr. McLean, manager for four years was a director of the Rotary Club, and of the Agricultural Board chairman of the Red Cross; campaign chairman for the Easter Seal and Red Shield, and a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the curling and golf clubs. Mr. McLean has been transferred to Tweed.

During the business period it was announced that Dr. Margaret Arkenstall of Newmarket would be the guest speaker for the Easter Thank offering meeting, Mrs. J. F. Lane and Mrs. Frank Rich were appointed to assist in the Easter service, the welcoming committee being Mesdames T. H. Hardy, E. H. Topping, C. D. Anderson, H. Weldon, with the C. G. E. T. taking up the offering.

An appeal had been previously made for nylon stockings to be sent to Korea. In place of the usual newspaper item, Mrs. Hareus referred to an article in the Canadian Girl which tells the story of how these are used in Korea—none of the women supporting them, selves with things they make from them including such things as beautiful drapes. In the new United Church House in Toronto, behind the altar hang some of these drapes, a marvel of beautiful ingenuity and craftsmanship.

DIFFERENT?

No other car has springs like these!

Volkswagen rides like a big car—with springs you can't even see! Sealed in tubes, they're protected from rust, dust and dirt. These torsion bars give independent springing to each of the four wheels—unlike any other family car. You get the same remarkable riding comfort front and back.

Volkswagen wheels are different, too. They're larger than normal with larger tires for a softer, more comfortable ride. And oversteer brakes give you maximum safety.

Volkswagen's unique suspension, large wheels, luxurious contoured seats—these are the important things when it comes to riding comfort—not just the Volkswagen's ride on any road is unmatched, even by big cars.

That Volkswagen's famous engine is different, is a well known fact. It's in the rear, of course. It's six-cylinder in fact, it has set a new trend in motor design. You get up to 40 miles per gallon and can drive at top speed all day long—if you wish.

All this makes Volkswagen different. When you drive it you'll find—it pays to be different.

No wonder, then, that Volkswagen is the largest selling imported car in North America—by far!

CARING FOR CUT FLOWERS.
PAYS GOOD DIVIDENDS.
If you are the timid type and have never dared immerse yourself in hot water, you may be encouraged to try that treatment my horticulture specialists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. They say roses respond to this hot water treatment.

The stems of roses, placed in two to three inches of hot water (100 degs. F.) are allowed to remain there until the water becomes cool. Then they are placed in deep cool water for a hardening period. Like all flowers give nutrients through flowers, blossoms and foliage must be protected from steam by covering them with a paper or cloth.

Positive, rose carnations, lilacs and violets like a liberal sprinkling with a cool water using a line spray which will keep the blossoms, lily blossoms, sweet peas and petunias receive this treatment, however, and their flowers will become spotted is subjected to it.

Shortening of the stems, with the increasing of age also will give more lasting freshness to the remaining part of the bouquet. If an arrangement can be kept looking fresh by picking off wilted blossoms and yellowed foliage, keeping flowers out of drafts will greatly extend their lasting qualities. Drafts and winds cause rapid evaporation too.

To condition plants, wrap them in damp newspaper and place in deep, cold water for which a good sized piece of laundry starch has been added.

Touster Elements
When the wire or ribbon element of a toaster or any electrical appliance breaks, the broken ends together, sprinkle a little box of cornstarch and turn on the current. The resulting electrical spark will fuse the two broken ends and the element should be restored to operation.

Sliding Drawers
Does a sliding drawer annoy you? Sand the runners down as the drawers open easily. Then spray talcum on the runners to seal them from humidity which might make them swell and stick again.

Grass Stains
To remove grass stains, rub the garments with molasses, roll up for an hour, and wash in warm water and soap.

SCHEDULE FINDS THREE GAMES IN EACH LEAGUE
Today's Major League Baseball schedule finds three games in each league. In the American, New York is at Boston and Detroit at Cleveland this afternoon. . . and Washington at Baltimore tonight. Chicago and Kansas City are idle. In the National, Cincinnati is at Milwaukee and Los Angeles at San Francisco this afternoon. . . and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh tonight. St. Louis and Chicago have the day off.

TUESDAY BASEBALL

The Chicago White Sox opened the defense of their American League pennant yesterday by outslugging Kansas City, 10-9. Detroit needed 15 innings to subdue Cleveland, 4-2. . . New York bounced Boston, 3-1, and Baltimore sniped Washington, 3-2. In the National and Los Angeles blanketed San Francisco, 4-0. . . Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh, 4-3. . . and St. Louis turned back Chicago, 5-2.

SERIES TIED—FINAL GAME TONIGHT

The seventh and final game of the Eastern Professional League playoffs will be played at Sudbury tonight. The Montreal Royals, coming from behind, sniped the Sudbury Wolves, 2-1 in the sixth game in Montreal last night and tied the standings 3-3.

SPRINGFIELD NEEDS ONE VICTORY TO WIN PLAYOFFS

Springfield needs just one more victory over Rochester to win the American Hockey League playoff series. Springfield took a three-to-one game edge in the late-of-sevens series last night with a 3-2 decision at Rochester. The Indians scored all their goals in the first period and then fought off American rallies that netted one goal in the second and one in the third. The next game is Friday at Springfield.

OFFICIALS CONCERNED ABOUT EXHIBITION GAMES

Officials of the Canadian Football League are concerned about the scheduling of National League club exhibitions in Toronto and Montreal. Two games have been scheduled by a Toronto promotional group headed by former St. Hart. But General Manager Perry Moss of the Montreal Alouettes says he's concerned about the way the Montreal game was arranged. Said Moss. . . "It follows a trend the National Football League has shown of having to regret for anyone but themselves. We're going to do something about it although right now I couldn't say what."

JOHANSSON-PATTERSON EXPECTED TO SIGN THURSDAY

Ingram Johansson and Floyd Patterson are expected to sign contracts tomorrow for their return heavyweight title bout. Attorneys and advisors met yesterday to clear away the last of the legal obstacles in signing for the match. . . to be held in June at New York's polo grounds. Johansson balked at waiting until tomorrow for the formal signing, but finally agreed.

FULLMER REMAINS FAVOURITE TO RETAIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Gene Fullmer remains a heavy (12-5) favorite to retain his N-B-A middleweight championship tonight. Fullmer takes on Ray Orlowski at Bensman, Montreal. Both men expect the bout to be the 18-round distance, and each is predicting victory. Despite Giardello's checkered record, Fullmer says he expects it to be his "toughest fight."

FORMER PRESIDENT FILES DAMAGE SUIT

A former President of the International Boxing Club—Freddie Gibson, Junior—has filed a one-million, 800-thousand-dollar damage suit against James—Steward Gibson. The suit claims Gordon's article in the April Readers Digest made untrue and defamatory statements about Gibson's fight promotions and connections. Gordon was called before the Illinois Athletic Commission yesterday to explain charges made in the article. He was unable to name any fixed bouts in Illinois.

Impression about new arena is wrong—Mayor

AN ADVISORY BODY

There seems to be some confusion developing in Lindsay as to the function of a planning board such as was constituted here jointly with City Township.

Just to keep the record straight, a planning board is an advisory body to council. Its primary role is to draft zoning and planning recommendations for council's consideration. If these recommendations meet with council's approval, it is then its council's privilege to incorporate them into a bylaw.

At the present time the Lindsay - City Planning Board is in a state of change and may, in fact, be impetuous. City Township has decided not to reappoint members to the board and, as far as can be learned, even Lindsay has not made its 1960 appointments yet.

We have no doubt council will welcome ideas from these organizations but it is perfectly natural (and right) for elected public officials to resent any attempt to force a decision which may not meet with their approval.

DeGroff proposes 'Industrial Week'

SOMETHING REALLY NEEDS TO BE DONE

People going to attend meetings in Lindsay's town hall should actually take along a hearing aid which they are hard of hearing or not. It's virtually impossible to pick up the sound of voices in any other way. In a word, the acoustics of the room are poor, especially if the speaker tends to talk softly.

The fact that attention in the hall are poor makes it difficult for reporters & spectators to follow the trend of a discussion by council or other municipal organizations holding meetings the sound of the room makes the cause of embarrassing errors. Improved conditions would also be of benefit to the several magistrates' courts which are held in the upstairs courtroom.

It is virtually impossible to follow the trend of developments if there is heavy traffic in the vicinity.

Improving this condition need not be a very expensive undertaking and it would so doubt be welcomed by all who have occasion to use the hall. There is nothing more annoying to an audience that to be unable to follow a discussion or clearly hear a speaker.

Council's town study committee would be rendering a real service by studying the situation and offering some practical suggestions for improving it. Something really needs to be done about it.

Matters of Interest

DRIVING SCHOOL BUSES — A Responsibility

A recent tragedy that occurred when a school bus was in collision with a train at a level crossing, has focused the attention of the people of Ontario on school bus operations in our Province.

Parents in general must be concerned. They want to know if the vehicle that transports their children is in safe condition and, most important, they want to be assured that the driver of that vehicle is beyond reproach from the standpoint of both his personal conduct and his driving ability.

It is not our intention here to minimize the difficulties met with in securing a good driver for a school bus. In the first place it is a part-time job, the driver working only for a short time in the morning and another short period in the afternoon, and so work at all during the months of July and August. Frequently the money he earns is just a supplement to income from a regular job, and in certain cases the money earned is less than the money he would have earned as extra income from above and below the school bus from his other job.

Not A Secondary Job

All of us will agree that using a school bus driver is a very sound investment which would be a tendency to regard his driving job as secondary, and as a consequence, he gives it secondary attention. We would expect that a good bus driver should be a man of some authority so that he will be able to control the behaviour of his child passengers, and he should have a definite interest in children and use the same care with his passengers that he would use if he were driving his own children in his own private car.

Since he has in his care the people who will be the future leaders of industry, the professions and the safety-consciousness of our Province, how no bounds. While the Laws governing the operation of school buses is in his favour, his safety-mindedness should lead him beyond all legal requirements, so that parents may be assured that what they hold most dear is in the hands of a trustworthy gentleman.

However when man must be hired as school bus driver, the utmost care should be taken in their selection and the employer should always bear in mind that he is legally and morally responsible for the welfare of the driver who in turn must accept one of the greatest responsibilities that any man may be called upon to assume, and that is the safety of our children.

No - Belief in God IS NOT Enough!

Many people are taking their eternal salvation on a "religion" of their own, which is actually no religion at all.

"I do believe in God," they say, "I don't go to church. I'm just not the religious type."

Almost everybody, of course, believes that there is a God. Because we actually believe there is a God, should not this common sense tell us we must do something about it? And how can we give expression to our belief in God if not through religion?

Religion is simply the consequence of our realization of Who God is in His own nature. We are not in our nature to be good and to do good. We are in our nature to be good and to do good. We are in our nature to be good and to do good.

God has a purpose in doing this. Catholics believe it is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it.

Catholics believe that God created us for a definite purpose. — that He gave us the intelligence to recognize what that purpose is — and the means to fulfill it. It is through our religion — our belief in God — that we can have evidence of our desire to be good and to do good.

It is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it. It is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it. It is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it.

Scouts hold cook-out, new ideas demonstrated

With spring in the air, the Scouts turned out very good and were quite delicious a though a few were a trifle uncooked. Then we found out the purpose of demonstrating the new ideas on outdoor cooking picked up by Scoutmaster Art Dickinson and assistant Jim Brainer at a recent scouting conference in Cobourg. It was also held to pass the boys on their first cooking tests. The cook-out was held on the property of Mr. Art Carw, near the river.

Telling of the event, Ron Kennedy Assistant Scout Master, says: "Things got under way with the lighting of a big bonfire which provided us with light and kept us warm. Each patrol, under the direction of its leader, then endeavored to light a campfire of their own. This case, each boy proceeded to prepare and cook for himself a "camper's dinner."

WASHES OUT ROAD
THEN RECESSES

The Burnt River has receded and is again at its normal level after a brief spring flood. A week ago the river overflowed its banks flooding the main route to the village of Burnt River. The road portion was closed to traffic as several feet of it were washed out. No other damage is reported.

CITA asks banks to remove or suspend US coin charge

Sees tourist trade suffering

Toronto, April 26.—(UPI)—The Canadian Tourist Association today asked the Canadian Chartered Banks to remove the charge or at least to de-clare a moratorium during the summer tourist season on foreign coins.

The annual 300-million-dollar tourist revenue is threatened because of the extra charge on the coins.

J. M. McConvill, Canadian Tourist Association President, said that officials of the Association have been counselling with banking authorities in an effort to find a solution to the problem.

Canadian banks work harder than ever to develop a reputation for hospitality this summer, he said. "To date the banks have been charged with the cost of packing and shipping them back over the border, has been enforced across Canada only recently. In the past few months, many Canadian citizens have been flooded with U.S. silver due to individuals profiting by the exchange rate which has not applied to coins."

Ironing woman's belt hit metal shelf save her

Haliburton woman momentarily deafened and blinded by flash, home wrecked

A Haliburton woman narrowly escaped being killed Saturday morning when her home was struck by lightning. Mrs. Russell Neville, who lives in a small cottage on Highway 121, was ironing Saturday night when lightning struck the hydro pole in front of her home and the TV antenna on the TV. The cord of the iron which was resting on a small metal shelf. The lightning travelled down the cord, jumped onto the shelf and followed the metal down the sink and down the hot water pipe, caught fire. The fact that the house is made of stone was seen for the metal shelf was a contributing factor. Mrs. Neville says she was sure she would have been electrocuted. Parts of the house were destroyed by the lightning. There included a dormer which the upstairs portion of the house was being blown out. Several windows were also destroyed.

A midnight thunderstorm arrived Saturday night when it arrives home from a hard day's work with his back. Would it be something like: "That job's a pain in the neck?"

Many people claim they feel tired for several days after the return of DST. Some say they never really feel rested again until fall when Standard Time returns and they get back the hours' sleep they lost in the spring.

Just thinking about the fact that we are losing an hour before they normally would be enough to make some people nervous. Some people are overcast morning does nothing to help them.

Play ball—Sunday's spring sunshine was the invitation to have a workout in Victoria Park. Other things get a workout too. Park benches were in strong demand as sunbathers citizens chose to bask in the sun.

ORGANIZATIONS LIKE MONEY . . .

Organizations, like money, can become troublesome when too plentiful and membership overflows. It is to be headed that way in Lindsey. The town we seem to be over-organized for its size and the result is not good. Why do we suggest this? Because when a town is over-organized, many people serve on one or more executive committees of the various organizations and become the victims of conflicting loyalties.

Say for example, a man is on the directorate of one organization and he is also attracted to some other group. He is going to be influenced in his decisions regarding one organization by his association with the other. It is almost impossible to avoid this, unless he agrees to be a rugged individualist and these people are not too plentiful in this town over here in Lindsey seems to predominate.

We also find this tendency to over-organizations creeping into all levels of government from municipal councils on up the line. Councils as a whole are often not fully acquainted with the facts of many issues brought before them but rather are asked to approve or reject virtual decisions arrived at by committees and sub-committees. This trend leads to confusion, leaves the door open to manipulation and, in some cases, can cause dissension within the ranks.

Councils, these people elected annually to administer the town's affairs, should function as a whole body with very small committees named to report on a given problem. Large committees that consist of many members constitute a waste of money and a waste of time to swing an issue, should not be appointed.

Membership on other municipal bodies (non-elected) should be restricted to one man to say given organization. This would permit full concentration on that group's work without the distraction of having to keep track of several organizations.

A CREDIT TO THE DEPARTMENT

People frequently have some unkind remarks to make about the government and civil servants. But those who heard Mr. McQuarrie's remarks at the meeting of the Lindsey Department of Public Works, when he appeared before a special meeting of council here this week, could help him admit him.

Mr. McQuarrie is a credit to his department and his presentation of the unbiased facts concerning the choice of a federal building site for Lindsey drew adulation from those who heard him. He explained developments leading to the choice in a clear and concise manner, giving sound reasons for the recommendation he had made.

Even those who had entertained ideas of another site were forced to admit they could take no issue with reasons for the departmental engineers' choice: the southeast corner of Cambridge and Russell Sts. Mr. Kayes stood aloof from local controversy and refused to become involved in local politics or other matters. He stuck strictly to the matter at hand—a suitable, economically practical and sound choice of a site for a new federal building at Lindsey.

MR. MCQUARRIE MAKES A POINT

While Deputy-reeve Les McQuarrie of Lindsey doesn't come out fairly and say so in so many words, he has implied in remarks to town council that the present system of high school education is costing a lot more money and achieving results not much greater than those derived from continuation school training.

In suggesting this, Mr. McQuarrie has not taken issue with the calibre of teachers engaged in high school work or with the selection of the schools by their principals. He is simply wondering, as many others have before him, if the general benefits from the high school area system are in keeping with the costs entailed.

This is not a new development . . . People wondered about the benefits when the chagover from continuation and individual high schools was made to the large high school area types of schools.

There are several things to be said for and against the enlarged high school idea but to say that students acquire more knowledge in the larger schools would be a statement which might be difficult to back up. It is only necessary to look back over the years and note the fact that there have been many successful men who received their high school education in the old village grammar or high school. A significant and possibly contributing factor, may be contained in the fact that they had longer school hours and the time now spent travelling in and from school was available for study.

Mr. McQuarrie may well be correct in his assumption that high school education is passing through a transition period and further change may be expected.

There is a saying to the effect that what is suitable today may not be satisfactory tomorrow . . . Could it be that the time has come when we have discarded some methods in the process of change which might serve very well today? We rather liked the deputy-reeve's idea that we do not forget the days when things were done differently and just as effectively. Do you, too, find something in the appeal which gives cause to reflect?

ARE WE INVITING FIRES? . . .

We are inviting fires? . . . Why? A number of people are wondering about this these days and not without reason.

This is the time of year when nearly everyone gets busy cleaning up the "back yard" and the natural tendency is to get rid of the leaves, broken limbs and yard debris left over from winter, by burning it up.

He was none too happy

Clare Western, Lindsey, was glad to see spring come and have the roads open so he could visit his summer resort property at Snig Harbour. However, he was none too happy about what he found when he got there. He is shown above as he surveys the wreckage of a landing wharf which was lifted out of the water by the pulling up on shore and wrapped around a tree. Several other wharfs and a number of boat houses in the area were damaged by the shifting ice. Clare says he never seen it so bad. He has summured there for several years and owns a trio of cottages.

Sometimes these bonfires get out of hand and spread to nearby grassland or buildings with disastrous results.

A person, who has recently moved to Lindsey from another and larger centre, has expressed amazement that the garbage collection system in the town doesn't provide for property packaged with material such as lawn refuse to be taken to the municipal dump. It was this question who asked the question: "Aren't you asking for fires in Lindsey?"

Frankly, the question is one which cannot be denied lightly. We are inviting fires by making it necessary for people to burn refuse in densely built-up areas? What do you think?

Didn't know value of property could rise so quickly, engineer says

Area site proposal was located to best advantage, meeting told

"Do you see that figure?" I couldn't see it myself — but I saw the value of property in Lindsay could rise so quickly," declared the Dept. of Public Works engineer Walker Kays.

Walker Kays said that question during last week's special meeting of council called to discuss the department's choice of a site for a new federal building in Lindsay.

$80,000 ASKED

Mr. Kays was pointing to a chalked sketch of the proposed Arena - Mauder property site, which he had drawn on a blackboard, when he asked the question. The figure $80,000 had been written on the blackboard.

Summarizing his reasons for recommending the Cambridge Road site, Mr. Kays said that besides choosing the site for its physical attributes he had, prior to this meeting, attempted to co-operate on the Arena site proposal. It had been a waste of time, he said, and he was not at all

Walker Kays further pointed out that he had been on this site, not only it would be necessary to start 25 feet from the Russell Street sidewalk but there would be a piece of arena property for sale. He would have been jokingly asked what it was proposed to do with it — put a swimming pool on it?

The federal engineer told the estimated 25 spectators who turned up for the meeting, that "the people from whom the department was buying the property recommended for the federal building site had lots of time to consider it and not only did we receive the offer, but we were brought to it."

The arena site facts disclosed by engineer

There has been a lot of discussion in some quarters relative to the recommended site for the federal building proposed to house a post office and other federal agencies at Lindsay. Certain facts as to the developments which led up to the choice of the south-east corner of Russell and Cambridge Sts. emerged in an interview with Engineer Walker Kays, federal Dept. of Public Works. Outlining the arguments which led up to the choice before last night's special meeting, he said:

He was not asked to come here to discuss the matter with the public and preferred not. However, he did present a clear and convincing outline of the facts influencing his decision.

He was told at that time by Mr. McGarrigle, who was then in charge of the town, would like him to give first consideration to the arena property as it was to be new federal building. Mr. Kays told "The Post" he agreed to give first consideration to the arena property. He recalled inquiring as to the price the town would want for the property and was told to see him — no one even knew whether or not it was for sale.

Drama Award Won By Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls (PNS)—The Junior Farmers Drama Festival, Zone 1, finals were held in the auditorium of Fenelon Falls High School, when one act plays were presented by Lanark and Fenelon Junior Farmers. Lanark County was represented by a group from Appleton and presented a play entitled "Dig O' My Heart!" This was followed by the play "His First Date" presented by the Fenelon Falls group.

Mr. Howard Nesbitt, past president, introduced the players, namely Jackylin Ouel, Jethro Staples, Connie Fairfield, Joanne Nesbitt, Joan Webster and Bernice Webster. Paul Black was the unfortunate victim of mumps and Bernice Webster who directed the play filled in for him on short notice.

The adjudicator, Mr. Peter McCombe, of Peterborough complimented both groups on their fine performance. He gave very helpful criticism of both groups who should profit greatly by his remarks while the reception was held at the Bellamy's dining room. The young couple are now residing in Toronto.

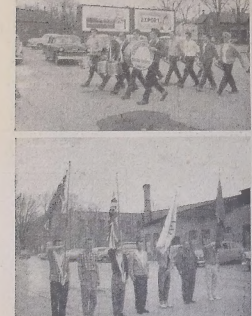

Previous to the wedding a delightful evening was held at Miss Anne Woolcott. The bride received many lovely gifts and a delicious luncheon was served by Anne and her mother, Mrs. Woolcott.

ONTARIO

TODAY, MORE THAN 5 1/2 MILLION RESIDENTS OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO ARE COVERED BY ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE

THIS MEANS THAT 93% OF THE POPULATION NOW HAVE MAXIMUM PROTECTION AGAINST THE COST OF NECESSARY HOSPITAL CARE

4,200,000 ONTARIO RESIDENTS, IN GROUPS, are now insured — 25,000 business firms and other organizations are co-operating to make these benefits available to their employees and members.

1,200,000 RESIDENTS, NOT IN GROUPS, are insured through premiums paid directly to the Commission.

100,000 MUNICIPAL WELFARE RECIPIENTS are also covered for hospital care.

$155,000,000 WAS PAID IN 1959, through the Commission, for standard ward hospital care received by insured residents.

EVERY MONTH LAST YEAR, MORE THAN 50,000 PATIENTS received hospital benefits under their Ontario Hospital Insurance Certificates. These benefits covered cases ranging from minor emergency treatments to long-term illnesses costing several thousands of dollars.

8,000 ONTARIO RESIDENTS RECEIVED BENEFITS for hospital care while outside the Province.

MORE HOSPITAL BEDS IN ONTARIO
Communities, hospitals and the Commission are working together, assisted by Provincial and Federal grants, to meet the need for more hospital accommodation in a growing Ontario. In 1959, 2,000 new beds were added; accommodation for 3,000 beds were under construction and facilities for 3,500 more beds were in advanced planning stages.

WHAT DOES ALL THIS MEAN TO YOU?
It means many things. But, to you, as an insured person, probably the most important is the fact that hospital expense is no longer an obstacle when your doctor recommends hospital care for you or your dependants. This means greater peace of mind for all concerned.
